ITEM FIVE: ANNUAL REVIEW AND UPDATE OF STRATEGIC TRENDS AND MASTER PLAN ISSUES

The Board received a presentation from Ed Holland on the annual update of OWASA's 50-Year Water and Sewer Master Plan. The following information was highlighted:

- ✓ OWASA customers continue to use less water than expected based on 2001 projections from historical data.
- ✓ Because of this reduction, OWASA expects to be able to defer future expansions of the Jones Ferry Road Water Treatment Plant and the Mason Farm Wastewater Treatment Plant by 10 years or more.
- ✓ With the planned use of reclaimed water at University facilities, OWASA's current water supplies should be adequate to meet projected long-term demand unless there is a severe drought in the 2020s prior the Expanded Stone Quarry Reservoir becomes available. However, the OWASA Board has adopted water conservation targets for future years and staff is evaluating additional conservation initiatives to help ensure that future supply will be sufficient.
- ✓ OWASA will develop a long-term biosolids management plan in 2007.
